

The Nectar of Tears

Sumaya Firdous

The nectar of tears shoots by an arrow of Your Will,
Still we fall on our knees before you,
You lifted us away by the storm of our sighs.

Tired of being following your path untiringly,
When patience and love dried up,
That is the alarm of the death of eternities.

Silence is the message of your heart,
How much you try to conceal,
Silence expresses all by its own language.

We all are Your small created things,
But You keep secrets in secrets.

How can a brainy man,
Such men are no more,

Following the path of their heart and unfasten,
The secrets of Your silence.
